"Don't be selfish; don't live to make a good impression on others. Be humble, thinking of others as better than yourself. Don't think only about your own affairs, but be interested in others, too, and what they are doing. Your attitude should be the same that Christ Jesus had. Though he was God, he did not demand and cling to his rights as God. He made himself nothing."

"Looking is good." -Jeffery Morton

Fall two-thousand and four I sat down with Liz Tubergen to brain storm about how to infuse Tartan with something new, while maintaining its integrity as a yearbook. We wanted to give the student body a reason to anticipate the publication again after some frustrations in previous years. Our first step was to take all the pictures ourselves. When the results of our initial shoots came back, the thought on all our minds was that these would make an amazing look-book, something that anyone could sit down and enjoy like a coffee table book. We wanted it to flow in a way that would promote visual fluidity, but still function as a traditional Tartan. While the presentation is different this year, it still is steeped in concepts from years past. We borrowed the idea for the square grid and more personalized photo shoot from the 1981 Tartan edited by Stephen Lutz. The "absolutely everything alphabetical" index came from the 2004 Thorn edited by Jonathan Krueger. We are not the pioneers of these concepts, but we still wanted to push for something unique and original. Our hope is you enjoy it as much as we enjoyed birthing it.

The book is slightly more intuitive, so I am including some notes for clarity. We featured the bare minimum of text in order to preserve the whole look-book feel. All graduating seniors' names are in bold. We aligned the senior quotes with the accompanying senior pictures in an effort to preserve the newer tradition of seniors submitting their own photographs and quotes. The order of the listed names is not meant to correlate exactly with the photos on the page but to indicate that the person is featured on that page. For example, the first row of pictures does not match the first row of names. This is not intended to frustrate but to facilitate design. Please forgive any confusion. Our staff took the majority of the photographs, but we were also happy to use Facebook as a resource for the student body to submit pictures as well, and we are thrilled with the outcome and diversity that gesture brought. We want to thank the Covenant community at large for their enthusiasm and patience with this project.
